CODE OF CONDUCT FOR TEACHING STAFF

1. Professional Conduct: Teachers shall embody the ideals of teaching by being calm, patient, and amiable, promoting sound values in their professional and personal lives, and maintaining appropriate, modest dress and respectful language.
2. Continuous Growth: Teachers should pursue ongoing professional development through study, research, and active membership in professional organizations.
3. Collegial Relationships: Treat colleagues with respect and equality, avoid unfounded allegations, and handle disputes privately or through formal channels. Support colleagues' positive initiatives and avoid professional jealousy.
4. Punctuality and Attendance: Teachers should be regular, punctual, and present for all scheduled classes and institutional programs, ensuring productive student engagement in their absence.
5. Professional Meetings: Attend and actively participate in meetings convened by the Head of Department or Principal, contributing constructively and adhering to decisions made.
6. Teaching and Responsibilities: Teachers are expected to teach assigned subjects diligently, complete the syllabus on time, and strive for excellent student outcomes while incorporating ICT tools and innovative teaching methods.
7. Student Relations: Treat students with respect and fairness, considering their diverse needs, promoting their personal and community development, and providing guidance beyond class hours without seeking rewards.
8. Ethical Boundaries: Refrain from developing undue familiarity with students or inciting them against others. Avoid private tutoring or coaching that conflicts with institutional duties.
9. Community Engagement: Teachers should participate in community activities, promote national integration, and encourage students to respect authority, property, and the environment.
10. Collaboration with Parents: Maintain communication with students' guardians, providing performance reports and engaging in meetings to mutually benefit the institution and the students.

CODE OF CONDUCT FOR NON-TEACHING STAFF
